

Editorial

Dear Readers/ Research Scholars,

Lucidity or clarity of expression is a most important aspect in the field of research and paper presentation. One may have thousands of valuable innovative ideas in his/her mind but unless he/she expresses them clearly, no one can either appreciate or understand his/her new findings. In these days of global atmosphere, good expression plays a vital role. A real research scholar must have full command not only on the subject but also on the expression. Lack of expression always makes a man inferior. For achieving nicety of expression, we have to make a sincere effort. So my dear research scholars let us concentrate on this aspect also.

*Continuous practice makes a man perfect
Clear cut expression captures immediate effect.*
